

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

Mrs. Boswell and Mrs. Carr, of Ripley, are visiting the family of Mr. A. Boswell. It is rumored that one of our widowers has entered into connubial felicity.

We are sorry to note the illness of Gus Sorries.

Mrs. John Enis is visiting her farm in Lewis county.

There will be no services here Thanksgiving. Henry Galne was in town Saturday.

R. C. Smith, the popular and well known engineer, leaves on Friday for Memphis, where he goes to accept a position. Dick is a first-class mechanic and we wish him success.

Mr. W. Hawks, who has been here for several months in the interest of the lightning rod business, left Monday. His many friends regret his departure.

Cyrus Bradford, of Glendale, met with a painful injury on last Friday, while log-rolling one fell on him badly crushing his limb.

The H. O. E.'s have re-organized and their first grand soiree was a taffy party at the home of Miss Bertie Nelson. They entertained in their usual novel and interesting style. Those present report a pleasant time.

J. Mutschelknaus has re-opened the confectionery store lately occupied by Jacob Speigle, and is now ready to accommodate his friends.

Mr. A. Boswell and wife entertained their numerous friends on Monday evening, it being their 10th anniversary. Tin was in abundance.

Mr. W. Clephane left Sunday for Cincinnati.

Henry Bicker is on the sick list.

The G. A. R. will give an oyster supper Friday and Saturday nights.

The Krupp Works at Essen.

The firm of Friedrich Krupp owns near Essen, 3,250 good and healthy lodgings for families, inhabited by about 16,000 people. The various colonies are traversed by wide streets, lighted by gas, and are supplied with good and sufficient water by the aqueduct of the factory. The annual rent for family lodgings of from two to four pieces (bedsides cellar and attic accommodation) varies from 66 to 180 marks. Single workmen can find board and lodging at a large boarding-house, capable of holding 1,800, at 80 pfennige (20 cents United States currency) a man a day. For more experienced and better paid men a special boarding establishment has been put up, at which they can live for 1 mark 10 pfennige (27 cents United States currency) per head and day. There are 150 lodgings set aside for the foremen and officials of the factory. There is also a common bakery, which turns out annually 130 tons of white and 2,100 tons of black bread; a butchery, furnishing the meat for the work people from 450 pieces of large cattle and 1,500 smaller animals per annum; besides shops of every description, a seltzer-water manufactory, a tavern called the "Essener Hof," seven beer saloons, with billiards, bowling-alleys, etc. The colony of Kronenberg has a daily market. The trading places, shops, etc., give employment to 270 persons, and their annual transactions amount to 2,250,000 marks, all the sales being "cash." On principle, no profits are to be made, and thus far subsidies have been required every year, the management of the shops, etc., not being an association on the part of the workmen, but an undertaking of the firm, and conducted on its account for the benefit of the workpeople. The cast-steel factory has a hospital a house for contagious diseases, and a bath house. Special care is taken of schools. School-houses, with twenty airy school-rooms, are placed at the disposal of the colony Altendorf; Kronenberg and Schedernof have a private school, conducted by one rector, eight male and four female teachers; besides two assistants. The pupils number about one thousand. For instruction in feminine handiwork there are two industrials, one for adults, the other for schoolgirls; the former under the direction of an inspectress and eight female teachers to upward of seven hundred pupils; the latter conducted by twelve female teachers, one-half of whom are widows of former workmen.

Hard Times. Phila. Inquirer.

It may be that hard times are on the way toward us. But, if they are, they have failed to give the usual premonitions of their coming. The people are all busy. No man need be idle who chooses to work. The cost of living is decreasing. The shops are full of eager buyers. The railroads are taxed to their full capacity carrying passenger and freight, and the only real signs of trouble are to be found in industries which have been tempted to over-production. All the other signs are favorable and belie the croakings of impending business depression.

John Phillips, of Hudson, Mass., beat his 16-year old daughter in such a brutal manner for a slight act of disobedience, that his neighbors became aroused and threatened to lynch him, when he fled to parts unknown.
